

THE MIRROR JOURNAL

VOL. 2, NO. 3

MIRROR, ALTA., NOVEMBER 22, 1912.

5 CENTS PER COPY.

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN IN THE DEMONSTRATION TRAIN

Hundreds of People Visiting The Train...Fine Stock on Board for Stock-Judging Work...Tour of Province Lasts Six Weeks

The mixed farming special which is touring the province all this month and which has been sent out by the provincial department of agriculture, arrived in Mirror Wednesday evening, after a trip over the G. T. P., to points south of here. In conversation with E. Lewis, one of the officials in charge of the train, he expressed himself as being sorry that Mirror and one or two other towns on the Tofteld-Mirror branch were not included in their tour. The fact that Mirror, which is situated in one of the finest mixed farming districts of Alberta, was overlooked in preparing the itinerary is to be regretted, as the train, without a doubt would have been well received, and the lectures accorded an attentive hearing by the people of this district.

Hundreds of people are attending the various meetings at the many towns visited, and the cars are jammed to the doors for the lectures held twice daily. In several towns the public schools have been dismissed during the visit of the special, thus giving the school children a chance to attend the nature study lectures given in conjunction with seed grain, weeds, and wood seeds, dairy demonstrations and stock judging.

At all the stops hundreds of farmers were intensely interested in the stock judging classes, and admired the splendid specimens furnished for the stock judging work.

The train left here at 9:30 and will visit points on the Grand Trunk Pacific, east of Tofteld.

COMPLIMENTS G. T. P.

W. P. Hinton, general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk Pacific, is in receipt of the following letter from the Canadian Journalist in connection with a recent trip made by the latter over the Company's Western lines:

"When I returned to Winnipeg on my way home you were out of the city on a tour of inspection, so that I had not an opportunity to tell you personally how delighted I was with the trip over your line. The road is the smoothest I have ever been on, and this was a surprise, not less pleasurable than your sleeping car service. Indeed, I was only on one other train whose sleeping cars were comparable with those of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and your buffet service was only equalled and your prices were just half. All of which, though doubtless news to you, was to me as must surely prove to the travelling public, a source of comfort and pleasure."

METHODIST CHURCH

Service at 3 p. m., on Sunday, Nov. 24th, at 8 p. m. Subject: "The lovable woman." Sunday school at 3 p. m.

An epidemic of small-pox is raging in Montreal, and other parts of Quebec.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier celebrated his 71st birthday on Wednesday, Oct. 20th.

EVENTS AROUND TOWN AND DISTRICT

Moved From Lamerton

L. Y. and Mrs. Clarke and family have removed from Lamerton and are now living in the house on Gilman avenue.

Things The West Is O. K.

Charlie Wilson, who was formerly in the Bank of Toronto here, is now in the same bank at London, Ont. Charlie says there's no place like the West.

Will Attend Special Conference

Rev. H. Brookes will attend a special Conference of the Methodist church in Edmonton on Tuesday, Nov. 26, to Thursday the 29th, to confer on matters pertaining to the spiritual welfare of the church.

Many Attend Sale

A monster crowd attended the auction sale of Mrs. Westhead's last Wednesday. Parties from points far and near were at the sale and the prices realized for the articles were the highest on record. The horses were sold at prevailing prices, but the cattle and sheep were extremely high.

An Example of Advertising

Mr. Merchant, take a lesson from the ordinary hen; how she loudly advertises her great usefulness to men lays an egg, then tells about it—lets the world know what she's done; she's not like the lazy rooster, crowing at the rising sun; when you've done a thing that's worthy, when you've got something to sell—why, just emulate Old Dorking, advertise, and do it well.

Building New House

Robt. Patton is erecting a house, 22x28 feet on Carroll avenue south. Mr. Patton is a conductor on the G.T.P. freight.

Eaters Late Partnership

W. J. Vernon has taken an interest in the butcher business of W. M. Beamish's, and the firm name will be known as Beamish & Co. We wish the new firm success.

Looking For Location

Two visitors, Alex. Mitchell, M. D. C. M., and A. E. Tisdale, of Macoun, Sask., were visitors in Mirror this week. Both of these gentlemen are looking for a location, and stated that Mirror appeared to be the place they were looking for. Dr. Mitchell is a C. P. B. doctor. Mr. Tisdale is interested in the fruit, candy and confectionery business.

Mrs. P. and Miss Taylor, of Edmonton, spent a few days with H. and Mrs. Kiesel.

W. H. Rand made a business trip to Camrose last Monday.

H. J. Raymer is away on a business trip to Edmonton this week.

Mrs. R. M. Whitcotton, of Ponoka, is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. T. R. McCormick.

Carl McCormack is visiting friends in Innisfail.

Jake Kadlec, of Wetaskiwin, is visiting with his brother, W. J., at the Grandview hotel, Lamerton.

STOCK YARDS WILL NOT BE BUILT AT LAMERTON SIDING

Message Received Before Going to Press That Railway Commissioners Refuse Application For Stock Yards—Too Close To Mirror Yards

A petition to erect stock yards at Lamerton siding, which was presented at a meeting of the Railway Commissioners, sitting in Edmonton this (Friday) afternoon, was thrown out. On considering the facts of the case and the proximity of the Mirror stock yards it was concluded at once that another yard was not required.

SUDDEN DEATH

[Wainwright Star, Nov. 13]

"Residents of the town experienced no small surprise Monday morning when the report was circulated that a G. T. P. engineer, J. T. George, had suddenly expired at the Park Hotel, the cause of his death being heart failure. The unfortunate young man, who was about thirty years of age, came here on Saturday and was intending to run out of this town. He was on the Mirror branch all summer and had been transferred to the main line.

The deceased's best fellow, J. Coverdale, was awakened at about 8 o'clock in the morning by the loud breathing of his mate and, thinking that he was dreaming, tried to awaken him. All efforts, however, were in vain, and roomers on the same floor were called in. By this time, George was dead, and Dr. Watson was immediately summoned. After a minute examination, the cause of the death was given as heart failure.

The late Mr. George was a Mason and hailed from some place in Texas. On retiring

Sunday night he was apparently in good health and he never had complained of any ailment. He came to Canada about six months ago and was connected at different times with the Santa Fe and Northern Pacific railways. His wife and one child were residing in Edmonton at the time of his death and arrangements had been made to bring them to this town for the winter.

The remains were taken to Edmonton on yesterday's express and will likely be taken to Texas for burial. The sad affair has cast a gloom over the railway men who know him and with whom he was very popular.

The late Mr. George was well and favorably known to the G. T. P. employees in Mirror.

NEW FARM PAPER

"The Canadian Countryman" is the name of a new farm publication just started at Toronto. It is very neatly gotten up, well illustrated and the articles well written. We are able to offer it for a time in combination with THE JOURNAL both one year for $1.35.

GENERAL NEWS

Plans are nearing completion for the building of the new Welland canal, providing for what will be the largest canal in Canada, the lockwalls being practically the same height as those of the Panama. The new canal is likely to enter Lake Ontario at McCalline Cove, three miles from the present outlet at Port Dalhousie, and will extend from Thorold, a distance of eight miles. This is what is known as the Ten Mile Creek route. The whole canal will be twenty-five miles long. From Thorold to Port Colborne the old channel will be used.

It is expected that the work will take five years in completion and the cost has been roughly estimated at $50,000,000.

M. Mockenburgh, A. M., the only University graduate eye specialist in the province, 318 Jasper, East, Edmonton, phone 5225, will be at the Mirror hotel, Mirror, Friday, Dec. 13th; also Grand hotel, Albx, on Thursday, Dec. 12th. 3-1f

CHICKENS FOR SALE

A number of pure bred Buff Orpington Cockerels for sale. $1.00 each. Good stock. En. QUAYRA, 523-24p Mirror P. O.

Xmas Gifts

Xmas will soon be here, so hadn't you better come in and pick out your presents. We have a large range of goods and are selling them as cheap as any mail order house, and give you the satisfaction of seeing what you are getting, also our personal guarantee. * We will lay away anything you want on a small deposit. Come early and you will have a large assortment to pick from.

Suggett Bros. Drugs, Optics, Jewellery Mirror, Alta.

WHEN YOU BREAK

Your Wagon Pole, Reach, Bolster, Haws, Axle or anything about your Wagon this time of year, you want it in a hurry. * Our Stock in above Lines is Complete.

We are here on the Job all the Time and Can Assure Prompt Service.

Carriage, Machine, Plow Shaft, Tire and shackle Set Severs, Whiff Bole, Whiff Coater, Neck Yoke Ends, Neck Yoke Centres, Cast Clevises, Wagon and Buggy Single Trees, Double Trees, Neck Yokes, Hardwood Lumber, Hynde End Gates, ready to put in your Wagon.

J. F. Flewwelling, Carroll Avenue South Mirror

Prices Count:

Space Will Not Permit Us to Enumerate All Our Bargains:

Hardware, Etc.

Highest Price Paid For Butter Eggs and Furs
'Black Prince' and 'Blue Bird' Axo Heads, a few left to clear, each at	.65c
Axo Handies.....each	.20c
12 good Stable Lanterns, complete, each	.75c
A large assortment of Graniteware at very low prices
A quantity of Drugs and Stationery still on hand
Full size Linen Writing Pads.....each	.15c
Chamberlain's Violet Talcum Powder regular 25c Tin, while they last each	.12 1/2c

When Every Article is Guaranteed

Dry Goods

Flannelettes, white, grey, striped...yd	.10c
Print, assorted colors.....yd	.10c
Apron Gingham.....yd	.10c
A quantity of 25c Silk Ribbon.....yd	.15c
Men's Ties, regular 35c & 60c lines...at	.25c
Crash Towelling, assorted patterns, price, $1.50 per yard...to clear per yd	.90c
Pull-Over Mitts, while they last...pair	.30c

MEN'S TROUSERS AT $2.25 TO $3.85

A nice line of Men's Trousers just received from Randall & Johnson's, Toronto, to sell at $2.25 to $3.85. These are extra value and will soon go.

Groceries

Robin Hood Flour.....per sack	$3.50
Rice.....4 lbs. for	.25c
Beans.....4 lbs. for	.25c
Cornflakes.....3 for	.25c
Corn.....2 for	.25c
Tomatoes.....6-3-lb. tin for	$1.00
7 lb. pail Aymler Jam.....for	.65c
Vanilla and Lemon Extract, high grade 2 oz. bottle.....each	.10c
Choice Black Tea.....3 lbs for	$1.00
Baking Powder, Tuxedo & Magic, tin.....	.20c

Call in and look over our Stock on Monday, 25th, in Mirror

Mirror Cash Store

Mirror Pool HallBarber ShopTOBACCO
AND CIGARS.R. E. COLEMAN,
CARROLL AVENUE.King George Restaurant

Opposite G. T. P. Station.

BOARD AND ROOMSSHORT ORDERS

CIGARS, TOBACCO, FRUIT

Full Line of GROCERIES

BAKERY IN CONNECTION

Mah Bing & Young Co.
Mirror.We Carry the Most Complete Stock of Lumber in MirrorA look over what we have to offer will convince you of that. Our Prices are as low as any.No Delay. No Waiting.It costs you nothing to get our figures, and may do you some good.McCormack Lumber Co.*The Mirror JournalPublished every Friday at Mirror Alberta.Subscription RatesTo all points in Canada, $1.00 to the U. S., $1.25 per Year.Advertising RatesLegal and Municipal Advertising, 10 cents per line for first insertion; 5 cents per line for subsequent insertions.Lost, Strayed or Found Notices, 50 cents for one insertion. Three insertions for $1.00.Professional Advertisements, $1.00 per month.Reading Notices in Local columns, 10 cents per line for first insertion; 5
cents per line for subsequent insertions.Display Advertising Rates given on application.All Contract Advertising Accounts payable at the end of each month.Good & Ballantine, Publishers.

MIRROR, ALTA., NOV. 22, 1912

COST OF GROWING WHEATData shows what it costs to produce a bushel of wheat has been collected by the department of agriculture from over 5,000 farmers in different parts of the United States. The figuresrelate to 1909 and are interesting. They show that the average cost of producing a bushel of wheat in the United States is 66 cents. The cost varies from 56 cents in Carolina and 95 cents in Maine, to 44 cents in Montana. The cost in group of states in which Minnesota is included is 62 cents. The selling price is influenced by local conditions and demands. The South Carolinians spent more for their wheat than the average price received by Montana and Minnesota farmers, yet made money because their market price averaged $1.25 a bushel. The average received by farmers throughout the country was 96 cents and the average profit 32 cents or approximately 30% on the cost of producing.The average value of wheat per acre raised in the country in 1909 was found to be $16.48 and the cost of production $11.04. The profit was $5.44.
The margin of profit varied in the different states according to local conditions, but for all practical purposes $5.44 seems to be approximately the profit a farmer should expect from an acre of wheat. A profit of $5.44 is a big return on land that costs $10 to $15 an acre. It is a large margin on land costing $25, and a fair profit, risks and other things considered, on an investment of $50 an acre. But the farmer who owns land worth $100 an acre is not showing much business judgment in using it to produce a crop that will yield less than 6% provided weather and other conditions are favorable.The figures go to show that it does not pay to grow wheat on high priced land, though many do not recognize the fact.
The wheat growing area in the United States has moved west not because the soil has become improved, but because the land has become too valuable.Farm land values in Canada are steadily on the increase, particularly in the West. Can we afford to plant these lands solely in wheat?RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT*TO THE LATE MRS. H. C. NEISWhereas, in His wisdom, it has pleased our divine Master to call our worthy and esteemed member, Mrs. H. C. Neis from our midst, andWhereas, we bow humbly to His decree, knowing that His doeth all things well, therefore be itResolved, that by her decease
the Ladies' Aid Society loses
one of its most valuable members, and one who will be ever missed from our Society. Her family and companions lose a kind wife and a loving and devoted mother and the community one of its most valuable citizens; alsoResolved, that in her industrious, upright and pure life, we find a fit example in preparing for the great harvest into which we ourselves, shall soon be garnered; andResolved, that we extend our sincere sympathy to the believed husband and daughters, and that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, and a third be furnished the papers for publication.

Mrs. CLYDE R. BURNHAM,

Vice President;

Mrs. A. J. RAY, Secretary.

One more member of our Aid has left

One more, one more on earth we crave;

One more, O how sad the thought is,

One more newly covered grave.

One more our Ladies' Aid has lost a a worker!

One more spirit taken flight,

One more added to the number,

In the realm where all is light.

One more friend farewell we'll bidden,

One more faithful face we've seen.

One more sigh, and one more tearstop

As we gather round her bier.

One more memory deeply riven,

One more in our hearts we place.

One more memory, one more memory,

Time and tears will never erase.

GOOD AND BAD ROADSThe road that leads to Sleepy-town is causing much complaining, and folk who travel up and down forget their moral training. For when the weather's wet that road is like the swamp
named Dismal, and horses, with their wagon load, sink in the depths abysmal. And motorists who go that way, are thrown into panics their autos sink in liquid clay to beat the lost Titanic. And when the weather's dry those tracks are ridged and rough and rutty, and traveller's have broken
backs or else are driven nutty.
And in the streets of Sleepy-town the citizens foregather, and say: "There's something keeps us down and handicaps us, rather! Why is our burgh thus standing still, no prices ever landing? The rival village, Rustleville, is growing and expanding! The roads that lead to Rustleville are excellent, inviting; and over valleys, bridge and bill the travellers go skimming no broken axle-tree or tire brings forth a burst of swearing; no horses founder in the mire or swim for shore despairing." And so to Rust-leville they go, the crowds, with their cheerful chatter Sleepytown, immersed in woe, they wonder
what's the matter.

WALT MASOS.

A WESTERN FAVORITEThe Family and Weekly Star, of Montreal, have announced their program for 1913 and subscribers are to receive greater value than ever before, and that is saying a whole lot. It interests everybody. The hints and information it gives are worth hundreds of dollars in a year. In addition to the paper for a whole year, each subscriber receives a most beautiful picture entitled, "Mother's Treasures."
It is 25x29 inches, all ready for framing. The picture alone would sell at a two spot in any art store. Subscriptions are taken at this office. THE JOUR-NAL and the Family Herald together, one year for $1.75.For Sale*Horses, Wagon, Harness1 Mare in foal of 2 yrs. old; 1 ped-ing, 6 1/2 yrs. old; wagon 1 set of work and 1 set buggy harness. Both horses broke to ride, work or drive single or double. A bargain. For further particulars apply to 5341 THE JOURNAL.Fall and Winter HATSNow is the time to make your selection. The very latest in Shapes and Colors.MRS. A. L. BARTON
Milliner MirrorTHE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

SIR EDMUND WALKER, C.V.O., LL.D., B.C.L., President

ALEXANDER LAIRD
General ManagerJOHN AIRD
Assistant General ManagerCAPITAL, $15,000,000 REST, $12,500,000*SAVINGS BANK ACCOUNTSInterest at the current rate is allowed on all deposits of $1 and upwards. Careful attention is given to every account. Small accounts are welcomed. Accounts may be opened and operated by mail.Accounts may be opened in the names of two or more persons, withdrawals to be made by any one of them or by the survivor.MIRROR BRANCH:*N. H. G. Ruthven, Manager.*FOR FARM LANDS

Raw and Improved, or

MIRROR LOTS

SEE

T. R. McCORKELL

C. P. R. Land Agent

MIRROR

Mirror Planing Mill

AND CABINET SHOP

Store Fronts

and

Fittings

BOATS

Any style and size built to order. Get your order in early before the rush.

Agent for

Pinner Lighting System

LOCAL AGENT for the Ontario Wind, Engine & Pump Co.—Pumps, Pump Jacks, Windmills, Feed Grinders, and the Famous McKay Engine, a hupper cooled cylinder, which is especially adapted to this cold climate. Call and get our prices before buying.*J. N. Mitchell, Prop., Carroll Ave., So., MIRRORLots in the Town of Mirror

BLOCK	LOTS	BLOCK	LOTS
11	14, 18	65	13, 17
18	40, 41	66	18, 22
40	29, 30, 33, 34	73	1, 2
50	1, 2	73	9, 10
50	9, 10, 18, 20	73	13, 14, 17
57	13, 25, 26	73	18
57	18	74	3, 4, 18
58	25, 26	74	14, 17, 21, 25, 26
59	19	81	1
59	20	81	19
66	17	81	20

W 1-2 33-40-22, 4, One Mile from Centre of MirrorWe have a Large Number of Other Good Buys.
Call and investigate.Clarke & Goater

Real Estate, Lamerton and Mirror.

The Imperial Lumber Co., Ltd

Headquarters for all kinds of Building MaterialLumber, Laths, Doors, Shingles, Windows, Mouldings and Finishings. Cement, Lime, Wood Fillets, Felts, Building Papers, Roofing, Etc.Brick and Coal

Best Grades and Lowest Prices. Satisfaction Guaranteed

Agents for the Famous McLaughlin CARRIAGES and AUTOMOBILESYard Opposite
Livery Barn, MIRRORJ. N. MITCHELL,
Manager Mirror Branch.Beds*Hardware*China*WE HAVE JUST RECEIVED A LARGE SHIPMENT OF Beds, Mattresses, Springs, Cots, Sofas, and also a great supply of Chinaware direct from the Factories, and this will enable us to compete with Eaton's prices. Come and inspect our Goods and bring Eaton's catalogue along and you will see that we are selling Goods just as cheap, and in some cases cheaper than Eaton's. We have also received a new stock in any line in Hardware, especially Oils and Grease for Threshing Outfits. We have all kinds of Paints, Oils, Sporting and Building Material, Wire, Tents, Saws, Cream Separators, Gasoline Engines, Granaries, Fanning Mills, Heaters, Stoves, Ranges, Guns, Rifles, Ammunition, &c.

Come and Get Our Prices and be Doing So, You Will Save Money.

Mirror Hardware Co.H. KIESEL
Manager

Their Contributions

A Lesson In Giving

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Of course the people of Sunnyside had heard of the celebrated "cowboy preacher," so called because of his representation from one of the widest dependencies of the west to become a missionary among the cattlemen of the great plains. The name of the Rev. Jackson Kidder often appeared in the missionary monthly to which everybody in Sunnyside subscribed, and there had been much discussion concerning the success that had followed his aims in the west.

The Ladies' Missionary society had taken undoubted pleasure in picking a barrel to send to the newly ordained minister when the missionary monthly recently announced that interesting event.

Mrs. Deacon Baxter generously contributed her son Willie's Christmas mitter and five blue knitted socks, and the packing of the barrel in Mrs. Baxter's kitchen was accompanied by the subdued roars of little Willie, who lifted his voice from a sturdy determination that the election left in vain expenditure.

"Cash barrel" snuffed Mrs. Weeks' exclamation after a scornful examination of the barrel. "You can't see the Lord, sister! And as for the barrel, it's a waste of money. I don't see the use of it. There's one thing about it that, cowboy preacher can hold a rummage sale after he gets this barrel and maybe get money enough to buy what he wants."

The barrel went on its way, and in due time there came back a letter from Jackson Kidder, who was thanking the good ladies of Sunnyside for their generous donation and asking that he might have the pleasure of ad-

A grim smile played around Mr. Kidder's lips as a rummage of better passed the way over his shoulder. He thrust a hand deep in his trousers pocket and drew thence Willie Baxter's knife, with several long strides he had left the platform and was placing the knife in Willie's shamelessly eager hand.

While the congregation looked scornfully at the audacious Willie Baxter and his embarrassed mother, the preacher, with a quick glance at the platform and continued the address:

For twenty minutes by the clock before the cowboy preacher held his listeners spellbound by the magic of his silver-tongued eloquence. He views on the subject of sinners were convincingly strong in favour of the brethren at home in Sunnyside rather than those indefinite but more picturesque idolaters in some foreign, snow-laden land.

"And now," he ended vigorously, "show your desire to help along the great cause, whether at home or abroad. Demonstrate your willingness to live up to your protestations of gratitude to the one who has prospered you. Come by your chest of treasures in this aim basin, Comers!"

There was an uneasy rustling among the congregation, and somebody moved toward the door.

"Stop!" cried the preacher. And he repeated the command by holding two blue muzzled revolvers. "Deacon Pringle, kindly look the door and see that no one leaves this place. You may hear this, this is merely one of my better methods of exhortation. Now, I am ready to receive your offerings. Who will be the first one to come forward?"

Somebody cracked up the aisle and gravely deposited a silver coin in the aim basin that was placed on the table. Then the deacon followed, and still another, but the amounts were small and evidently displeasing to the preacher.

"Now, all the persons in the front seats come forward and lay their offerings in this bucket. No matter how humble it is, it will be appreciated. I demand that you, as Christians, direct your offerings of gold and silver jewelry and of precious stones and place them here for the use of the poor!"

"Come, Brother Pringle, you may lead the way with your gold watch. A silver timepiece will answer your purposes, and maybe some poor sinner may be clothed and fed and warmed with the proceeds. Sister Beasley, your garnet brooch will not come amiss, and the brother who wears the large set ring must not see the evidence of his good faith. Those of you who can may redeem whatever you please with good money 'tommorrow morning before the church service. I require that every man and woman in this congregation contribute something."

And they did. They came forward, protesting utility in the face of those who had insisted that they should follow each individual dogged around until a contribution of some sort had been made. Then were indignation, rage and denials among the good people of Sunnyside as they solemnly directed themselves of jewels in lieu of money.

Deacon Pringle compromised on a fifty dollar note instead of his gold watch, and those who knew the deacon's aversion to debt as the way were called upon to deliver up their portion. When the meeting was declared closed and the revolvers were dropped back in Mr. Kidder's spacious pockets, Deacon Pringle unlocked the door, and there was a wild rush for driveways, and not one friendly hand was outstretched to the cowboy preacher, nor did any person express any pleasure or profit derived from his eloquent discourse. The deacon, deprived abruptly, and Mr. Storer, who had started frightened ejaculations during the sensational discourse of the visiting preacher, stood mutely waiting for his brother cleric.

Later, later, the Rev. Jackson Kidder lifted the brimming aim basin and placed it in the hands of the pastor.

"Brother," he said quietly, "tommorrow morning return these ornaments to the owners. God wants nothing given us unwillingly or under compulsion. Tell them to talk less about loving and giving. Impress upon them the necessity for actually doing these things and you will be unconquerable. I repeat that I cannot keep my engagement to preach to your people tommorrow. It is because that they will not be disappointed."

With a quick glance of the bewildered faces of the congregation, and a blessing on him and his indignant flock, the cowboy preacher passed swiftly through the crowd and stride toward the railroad station.

His going was unattended by any emotion or interest. Few saw him leave and none cared. Once he passed and chuckled softly to himself. "If it is not for the sake of Willie Baxter's indignant letter he slipped into the barrel I should never have seen him. You bring back my knife!" he commanded. Well, Willie was worth about it anyway," he ended, with a shrug.

Before he reached the station putting footstep after footstep behind him and he saw Willie Baxter, putting and breathless.

"You bring back my knife!" repeated. "I'm sorry about that knife. I sneaked out of bed and saw you coming. I was so afraid, as I followed you, I want you to give this knife to your little 'dolphin with my regards," he said. "You brought it back, and I'm glad."

Before he reached the station putting footstep after footstep behind him and he saw Willie Baxter, putting and breathless.

"You bring back my knife!" repeated. "I'm sorry about that knife. I sneaked out of bed and saw you coming. I was so afraid, as I followed you, I want you to give this knife to your little 'dolphin with my regards," he said. "You brought it back, and I'm glad."

Before he reached the station putting footstep after footstep behind him and he saw Willie Baxter, putting and breathless.

Points for Mothers

The Rainy Day Closet.

It is almost time to lay away materials for the "rainy day closet," a device intended for the alleviation of the care of mothers. Interest is now centering in school playgrounds and other aids for the more serious business of life, but they should not be tossed so far that they cannot be found again in case of need. Into the "rainy day closet" should go the toys from which the interest has temporarily departed, together with the accumulation of summer magazines, to be cut out and pasted in scrapbooks later, and specimens of rock and shells brought home from the seashore. This closet should contain story books for children of all ages, riddle books, old picture postals, clever advertisements which come to the house and many other things valuable to grow up, but dear to the heart of childhood.

Furniture catalogues appear particularly to little people, and misnamed decks of cards sorted over can absorb a good bit of time. A few good new games should be among the collection of this wonderful room. Dolls of colored crepe paper, a supply of paper napkins, costing almost nothing, with the assistance of pins, make the grandest kind of fairy costumes and will do all the work of dramatic performances are possible. Paper for making flowers, egg for molding purposes, bits of pretty wall paper for covering boxes and all medium sized tin boxes should find their way to this treasure house.

Envelopes from which the used stamps are to be cut will afford some boy amusement. All the odds and ends of lead pencils and crayons can go into the closet and some day find a use. There are sure to be "about it" days, many of them, when all this apparatus "will be" well welcomed.

In families where the "rainy day closet" has become an institution the mother is kept everlastingly locked, so that its opening on rainy days or sick days is looked upon as an event of great importance. The articles are carefully arranged on shelves or in drawers, and an older sister, or even an "old maid" for which there still be an appointed custodian. Among the rules and regulations passed on the inside of the door is one which states that no one must ask for the closet to be opened, but that if the mother is asked, she may be amply interchanged among the group of little folks who have been cut off by the weather from their customary amusements.

Nervous Children.

If when parents notice the nervousness of a little girl they would give her a little daily treatment before the proper diet and rest it is more than likely that the trouble would be soon overcome.

In the first place, for a child under nine years very little is to be advised. Poultry is best, and not too much of that either. Do not have the child eat anything but sleeping on an empty stomach is best, because it is not. It may be all well enough for a child, but with healthy, whole some people it is different. If a child tells you she is hungry while preparing to bed and some time has elapsed since the last meal was partaken give her a cracker and half fill a glass with warm milk and allow her to drink it. If she is healthy it will not be long before she will be sound asleep.

And now a word about how she sleeps. If you wish to have your little girl grow up without nervousness you must see that she has nine or ten hours of comfortable, uninterrupted sleep in a thoroughly well ventilated room.

By comfortable is not meant a soft and downy bedding, but neither it would be better to throw away all feather pillows and wool mattresses and substitute hosiery and beds of hay. This would mean real comfort and a sweet and clean bed, and the wonderful relief that would come to a sick, nervous or third child one has no idea of. There is a lot to be learned about it, and that is itself better than the "old" idea of the child being fed, but with healthy, whole some people it is different. If a child tells you she is hungry while preparing to bed and some time has elapsed since the last meal was partaken give her a cracker and half fill a glass with warm milk and allow her to drink it. If she is healthy it will not be long before she will be sound asleep.

And now a word about how she sleeps. If you wish to have your little girl grow up without nervousness you must see that she has nine or ten hours of comfortable, uninterrupted sleep in a thoroughly well ventilated room.

No Nicknames.

It is by far the best plan to choose an attractive epithet for the child, and, the name once given, stick to it. Elizabeth should never become Betty, Lillian should not be called Lillie, and so on. It is far better to have a name that is a little longer than the child's name, than to have a name that is a little shorter.

And don't let the children nickname each other. When Tommy begins to call his little Margaret "Maggie," he is sure to have a row of shiny buttons on his new coat decorated Tommy with such names as "Maggie" and "Maggie" and so on. And when Lillian begins to call her little brother "Lillie," she is sure to have a row of shiny buttons on her new coat decorated Lillian with such names as "Lillie" and "Lillie" and so on.

And don't let the children nickname each other. When Tommy begins to call his little Margaret "Maggie," he is sure to have a row of shiny buttons on his new coat decorated Tommy with such names as "Maggie" and "Maggie" and so on. And when Lillian begins to call her little brother "Lillie," she is sure to have a row of shiny buttons on her new coat decorated Lillian with such names as "Lillie" and "Lillie" and so on.

And don't let the children nickname each other. When Tommy begins to call his little Margaret "Maggie," he is sure to have a row of shiny buttons on his new coat decorated Tommy with such names as "Maggie" and "Maggie" and so on. And when Lillian begins to call her little brother "Lillie," she is sure to have a row of shiny buttons on her new coat decorated Lillian with such names as "Lillie" and "Lillie" and so on.

THE BROOD SOW NEEDS EXERCISE

The average old sow takes most kindly to a life of idleness. She takes the shortest cut to an easy way of getting a living always, writes a long growler in the Iowa Homestead, in two many counties her widows are entered by her owner, and the methods of her keep are too often such as to make her the unpurged vermin of the barnyard. As the result we have created a strong tendency in our swine population toward weakness of constitution and overindulgence accompanied in many cases by a lessening fecundity.

The successful man—that is, the man who succeeds year after year in raising and marketing those bunches of shote-applies methods in the care of his brood stock that go exactly counter to the best laid plans of the untried sow. He knows that if he can pick up their food in job lots, taking possibly not more than half an hour in containing a meal, the chance of their time, especially in cold weather, is small. They will be sure to get a day with great reluctance they may leave their sleeping quarters when they hear the rattling of the feed pail, but the rest of life to them seems to be not even consumption of their daily ration, but rather it is found that the spending of twenty-two or twenty-three hours daily nestled down among the straw.

Sows permitted to carry out this program during the gestation period will seldom bring to the owner profit enough to pay for the straw that they eat out during the winter, saving nothing of their feed. From such sows among pigs cannot be expected even though they should be raised through until they are five or six months old they are always the first to pick up their food in job lots, taking possibly not more than half an hour in containing a meal, the chance of their time, especially in cold weather, is small. They will be sure to get a day with great reluctance they may leave their sleeping quarters when they hear the rattling of the feed pail, but the rest of life to them seems to be not even consumption of their daily ration, but rather it is found that the spending of twenty-two or twenty-three hours daily nestled down among the straw.

The average old sow takes most kindly to a life of idleness. She takes the shortest cut to an easy way of getting a living always, writes a long growler in the Iowa Homestead, in two many counties her widows are entered by her owner, and the methods of her keep are too often such as to make her the unpurged vermin of the barnyard. As the result we have created a strong tendency in our swine population toward weakness of constitution and overindulgence accompanied in many cases by a lessening fecundity.

The successful man—that is, the man who succeeds year after year in raising and marketing those bunches of shote-applies methods in the care of his brood stock that go exactly counter to the best laid plans of the untried sow. He knows that if he can pick up their food in job lots, taking possibly not more than half an hour in containing a meal, the chance of their time, especially in cold weather, is small. They will be sure to get a day with great reluctance they may leave their sleeping quarters when they hear the rattling of the feed pail, but the rest of life to them seems to be not even consumption of their daily ration, but rather it is found that the spending of twenty-two or twenty-three hours daily nestled down among the straw.

Sows permitted to carry out this program during the gestation period will seldom bring to the owner profit enough to pay for the straw that they eat out during the winter, saving nothing of their feed. From such sows among pigs cannot be expected even though they should be raised through until they are five or six months old they are always the first to pick up their food in job lots, taking possibly not more than half an hour in containing a meal, the chance of their time, especially in cold weather, is small. They will be sure to get a day with great reluctance they may leave their sleeping quarters when they hear the rattling of the feed pail, but the rest of life to them seems to be not even consumption of their daily ration, but rather it is found that the spending of twenty-two or twenty-three hours daily nestled down among the straw.

The average old sow takes most kindly to a life of idleness. She takes the shortest cut to an easy way of getting a living always, writes a long growler in the Iowa Homestead, in two many counties her widows are entered by her owner, and the methods of her keep are too often such as to make her the unpurged vermin of the barnyard. As the result we have created a strong tendency in our swine population toward weakness of constitution and overindulgence accompanied in many cases by a lessening fecundity.

The successful man—that is, the man who succeeds year after year in raising and marketing those bunches of shote-applies methods in the care of his brood stock that go exactly counter to the best laid plans of the untried sow. He knows that if he can pick up their food in job lots, taking possibly not more than half an hour in containing a meal, the chance of their time, especially in cold weather, is small. They will be sure to get a day with great reluctance they may leave their sleeping quarters when they hear the rattling of the feed pail, but the rest of life to them seems to be not even consumption of their daily ration, but rather it is found that the spending of twenty-two or twenty-three hours daily nestled down among the straw.

The average old sow takes most kindly to a life of idleness. She takes the shortest cut to an easy way of getting a living always, writes a long growler in the Iowa Homestead, in two many counties her widows are entered by her owner, and the methods of her keep are too often such as to make her the unpurged vermin of the barnyard. As the result we have created a strong tendency in our swine population toward weakness of constitution and overindulgence accompanied in many cases by a lessening fecundity.

The successful man—that is, the man who succeeds year after year in raising and marketing those bunches of shote-applies methods in the care of his brood stock that go exactly counter to the best laid plans of the untried sow. He knows that if he can pick up their food in job lots, taking possibly not more than half an hour in containing a meal, the chance of their time, especially in cold weather, is small. They will be sure to get a day with great reluctance they may leave their sleeping quarters when they hear the rattling of the feed pail, but the rest of life to them seems to be not even consumption of their daily ration, but rather it is found that the spending of twenty-two or twenty-three hours daily nestled down among the straw.

Sows permitted to carry out this program during the gestation period will seldom bring to the owner profit enough to pay for the straw that they eat out during the winter, saving nothing of their feed. From such sows among pigs cannot be expected even though they should be raised through until they are five or six months old they are always the first to pick up their food in job lots, taking possibly not more than half an hour in containing a meal, the chance of their time, especially in cold weather, is small. They will be sure to get a day with great reluctance they may leave their sleeping quarters when they hear the rattling of the feed pail, but the rest of life to them seems to be not even consumption of their daily ration, but rather it is found that the spending of twenty-two or twenty-three hours daily nestled down among the straw.

The average old sow takes most kindly to a life of idleness. She takes the shortest cut to an easy way of getting a living always, writes a long growler in the Iowa Homestead, in two many counties her widows are entered by her owner, and the methods of her keep are too often such as to make her the unpurged vermin of the barnyard. As the result we have created a strong tendency in our swine population toward weakness of constitution and overindulgence accompanied in many cases by a lessening fecundity.

The successful man—that is, the man who succeeds year after year in raising and marketing those bunches of shote-applies methods in the care of his brood stock that go exactly counter to the best laid plans of the untried sow. He knows that if he can pick up their food in job lots, taking possibly not more than half an hour in containing a meal, the chance of their time, especially in cold weather, is small. They will be sure to get a day with great reluctance they may leave their sleeping quarters when they hear the rattling of the feed pail, but the rest of life to them seems to be not even consumption of their daily ration, but rather it is found that the spending of twenty-two or twenty-three hours daily nestled down among the straw.

The average old sow takes most kindly to a life of idleness. She takes the shortest cut to an easy way of getting a living always, writes a long growler in the Iowa Homestead, in two many counties her widows are entered by her owner, and the methods of her keep are too often such as to make her the unpurged vermin of the barnyard. As the result we have created a strong tendency in our swine population toward weakness of constitution and overindulgence accompanied in many cases by a lessening fecundity.

The successful man—that is, the man who succeeds year after year in raising and marketing those bunches of shote-applies methods in the care of his brood stock that go exactly counter to the best laid plans of the untried sow. He knows that if he can pick up their food in job lots, taking possibly not more than half an hour in containing a meal, the chance of their time, especially in cold weather, is small. They will be sure to get a day with great reluctance they may leave their sleeping quarters when they hear the rattling of the feed pail, but the rest of life to them seems to be not even consumption of their daily ration, but rather it is found that the spending of twenty-two or twenty-three hours daily nestled down among the straw.

The average old sow takes most kindly to a life of idleness. She takes the shortest cut to an easy way of getting a living always, writes a long growler in the Iowa Homestead, in two many counties her widows are entered by her owner, and the methods of her keep are too often such as to make her the unpurged vermin of the barnyard. As the result we have created a strong tendency in our swine population toward weakness of constitution and overindulgence accompanied in many cases by a lessening fecundity.

Bon-Ton Livery and Feed Stables

Prompt Service. Rigs and Drivers supplied to any Part of the Country. Draying Done on Short Notice.

F. Tulloch, Mirror.

Grand View Hotel - Lamerton -

Wines, Liquors and Cigars

Sample Rooms

Special Rates for Board and Room

Rates—$1.00 and $1.50 per Day.

W. J. Kadlec, Prop.

Subscribe for THE JOURNAL $1.00 A Year

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC R'LY

OPERATING The Daily Express

A solid through vestibuled train over the Picturesque Prairie Route.

EDMONTON SASKATOON WINNIPEG AND INTERMEDIATE POINTS

This train has the remarkable record of arriving on time in Winnipeg 127 days out of 130, June 18th to Nov. 1st.

Shortestline—quickest service—smoothest road bed.

All equipment absolutely new, embodying the highest standard of construction available.

Electric lighted sleeping cars, individual reading lamps in both upper and lower berths, luxuriously appointed throughout.

W. J. HUNLAIN, District Passenger Agent, 260 Portage Avenue, Winnipeg. Geo. Holmes, Agent, Mirror, Alta.

Wendell's Experience

He Learned His New Lesson Easily

By CLARISSA MACBIE

It was a busy day. Spring had arrived early that year, and in April the money bags of the Virginia brookside were stuffed thick with delicate flowers and purple violets. The sun shone down warmly through the trees, changing the burning buds to misty green leaves until the whole wood was permeated with green light and through with sunshine.

Jack Wendell tramped through the crisp leaves of successive years and with a wistful, half defiant glance up at the sky, thinking that led to Liverpool all the way. He threw himself down beside the murmuring brook and picked remorselessly the flowers.

"Forget-me-nots—rubbish!" he ejaculated bitterly. "All women are faithless as the flowers."

"Rubbish to that!" retorted a sweet voice from the other bank, and Jack rose, started to observe a pretty girl engaged in picking violets and forget-me-nots and trying them into little bunches. She wore a pink skirt, and with the background of green moss and golden green ferns, she looked like the wood surrounding her she picked to Jack's bewildered eyes like a pink and white fairy carved from the wood.

Her skin was pink and white, and her hair was golden like the sun, and her eyes were like the blue sky and the flowers below. When she spoke to Jack she had a sweet smile and a hint of golden brown in her cheeks.

"You're rubbish!" demanded Jack earnestly.

"Oh, because?" said the girl, looking at him with a smile and a half closed eye.

"I thought I smelled my girl," said Jack, shaking his head against the willow.

"Have a basketful here," said the girl.

"Having May baskets?"

"Yes, indeed," said the girl, making baskets. They were made of willow and straw, and were filled with flowers and leaves.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

REBS' CHICAT

Floral Booth & Novel Feature For Church Bazaar.

CHILDREN DANCE AT FAIR.

No Matter How Elaborate Your Fair Booth May Be, You Cannot Do Better Than White-Satin The Favorite Material To Use For This Garment.

My Dear Miss—I think I can supply you with a beautiful new idea to carry out in the bazaar you are getting up for the benefit of your country church. In the fall you will have lots of autumn flowers, so a floral fortune telling booth will be quite within your resources.

The setting that you will need for the flower fortune booth is a tent or a covered stand of white satin. The tent will answer the purpose of a booth and cost but a trifle. A flower fortune telling booth is a new idea, and the entrance may be screened so that no one may look in upon the venture. The booth will be a success.

Within the lower there should be a table covered with white satin. The table should be covered with white satin. The table should be covered with white satin.

We know each other well. You should be fair to me. I am a fair man.

"I slapped your face once!" Jack's answer came. "I was a fair man."

"Yes, you did, Jack Wendell. You were a fair man, and I was a fair man. It was at Miss Quilty's school."

"At Miss Quilty's school, yes?" Jack asked, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"Yes, indeed," said the girl, making baskets. They were made of willow and straw, and were filled with flowers and leaves.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

"You're rubbish!" said Jack, looking at her with a smile and a half closed eye.

ABOUT THE HOME.

Good Things For The Economical Housewife to Know.

People using articles made of rubber will find them to be of great service during oxidation may require the material to its original condition by a simple process. Soak the part in a mixture of one part of ammonia to two parts of water. This is particularly well adapted to the restoring of rubber bands, rings and small tubing which are puffed by becoming dry and brittle.

Tests made at the London electrical experiments have demonstrated that the shrinkage of metal when cooled in a coal range is somewhat greater than that of the same metal heated in a gas range and considerably more than when cooled in an electric range. A lot of metal weighing eight pounds and eight ounces showed a shrinkage of two pounds and eleven ounces when cooled in the coal range, whereas a lot of metal weighing nine pounds showed a loss of one pound and four ounces when cooled in an electric range. The shrinkage for the gas oven was two pounds and four ounces on an eight pound lot of metal.

On a lichen floor can be softened by pouring kerosene over it and letting it remain for ten or fifteen minutes. The kerosene will be easily removed from the hands by first rubbing with soap and water, and then washing with soap and water.

Shabby ironed trousers can be renewed by an application of a little white wash to the trousers. Keep in a warm place until the trousers are dry and then wash with soap and water.

When ironing between buttons on a blouse place a piece of white paper between the buttons. This will prevent the buttons from being soiled by the iron.

Linoleum will look better and last longer for an occasional rub over with a damp cloth dipped in paraffin. This will remove all dirt and stains.

Plants to the Fore, Says Fashion. One of the most authoritative dress-makers of the world is of the opinion that the most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable. The most fashionable dress is the one that is the most comfortable.

THE FRIEND OF MAN.

Good Form

Well Trained Servants. If it be your fortune to hire servants, it is well to remember that they are creatures of the same nature as each side of which should be observed to the letter. The servant problem is not only a result of industrial conditions, but of the home conditions, and if a mistress remembers that a servant is a human being, and treats the worker considerately, perhaps the rule of the mill, with its regular hours, will not be so alluring.

It frequently falls to a woman's lot to train a willing servant into the ways of her home and sometimes into the ways of serving. The important thing is not to attempt too much at once. Take one setting of the table and the serving, and by repetition and frequent practice the servant will learn to do on her mind the importance of the accuracy of serving. The first thing to be learned is to acquire efficiency in placing the silver, glasses, etc., correctly.

Generally speaking, the knives and spoons are placed at the right of the plate, the knife at the top of the plate, the spoon at the right, which is to be used first, as the order for food, should be the same. Next to the plate is the butter spoon, and so on. The dessert and the coffee spoons are last. For a coffee spoon, the handle should be turned towards the left. The smaller one, is last to be used and therefore nearest the plate. The method is to be learned by practice.

Butter should be placed at the left. Toward the right, the glass for water at the right.

A good servant keeps glasses always filled and places fresh butter on the plates. Serving should be done from the right hand. Two factors are demanded.

The proper form of addressing a mistress is "Your ladyship."

"Your ladyship." If there are any doubts about the proper form of address, a mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

Good Form

Well Trained Servants.

If it be your fortune to hire servants, it is well to remember that they are creatures of the same nature as each side of which should be observed to the letter. The servant problem is not only a result of industrial conditions, but of the home conditions, and if a mistress remembers that a servant is a human being, and treats the worker considerately, perhaps the rule of the mill, with its regular hours, will not be so alluring.

It frequently falls to a woman's lot to train a willing servant into the ways of her home and sometimes into the ways of serving. The important thing is not to attempt too much at once. Take one setting of the table and the serving, and by repetition and frequent practice the servant will learn to do on her mind the importance of the accuracy of serving. The first thing to be learned is to acquire efficiency in placing the silver, glasses, etc., correctly.

Generally speaking, the knives and spoons are placed at the right of the plate, the knife at the top of the plate, the spoon at the right, which is to be used first, as the order for food, should be the same. Next to the plate is the butter spoon, and so on. The dessert and the coffee spoons are last. For a coffee spoon, the handle should be turned towards the left. The smaller one, is last to be used and therefore nearest the plate. The method is to be learned by practice.

Butter should be placed at the left. Toward the right, the glass for water at the right.

A good servant keeps glasses always filled and places fresh butter on the plates. Serving should be done from the right hand. Two factors are demanded.

The proper form of addressing a mistress is "Your ladyship."

"Your ladyship." If there are any doubts about the proper form of address, a mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

A mistress should inquire of her maid. A mistress should inquire of her maid.

QUALITY

QUALITY

QUALITY

We never get tired telling about the Quality of our Merchandise. We order our Groceries only in small quantities, therefore it is always fresh and clean. Consider the advantage: the healthfulness of this plan. It is a duty you owe to yourself and family to buy first-class Goods. And our prices are positively the lowest possible for Dependable Goods.

Grocery Specials:

Krinkle Corn Flakes, 3 pkgs.	25c	Plantation Coffee, equal to any
Kiero Soap, first grade, 6 bars.	25c	Coffee you have ever tasted,
Raisins, extra choice, per lb.	10c	per lb.	35c
Navy Beans, 4 lbs. for.	25c	Eggo Baking Powder, purest
Mustard Sardines, large tin, 2.	25c	made, regular 25c tin for.	20c

We hope to be in our new location, corner of Lake and Carroll sts., Mirror, in a few days, with a complete Stock in all our Lines.

EDWARD MAURER

General Merchant

MIRROR, ALTA.

Farm Lands--House

One Section and a Half of Choice Farm Land; 200 acres under cultivation; 3 1/2 miles from Buffalo Lake Riding. One of the best.

One Section and a Half, 7 miles from Mirror; 200 acres under cultivation. This is an A1 stock farm. Storey and a Half House, 6 rooms, pantry, 3 Closets, cellar, plastered and well built throughout; close to depot. For terms of the above apply to--

Fred. Dowsell, Carroll Avenue, Mirror

CAN WE HELP YOU

? ? ?

If you are planning to Build come in and let us help you figure it out. Even if you are not building at once, drop in anyway, we'll be glad to give you an estimate. All material kept on hand.

SETTLERS LUMBER CO.

C. FRANCIS Local Manager

New Crockery and Glassware

One Price To All

JUST RECEIVED A Ton and a half of Crockery and Glassware direct from the Factory. Come and look over our line. Our Prices are as Low as the Lowest. Before buying you will do well to call and see us.

Duitman & Johnson

The Lake Street Hardware

Hardware and Tinmithing

Mirror: Alta.

SHAVED BY FORCE

Peter the Great's Merry War on Beards in Russia.

RAZORS FOLLOWED THE TAX.

When Heavy Fines Failed to Produce the Desired Result the Czar Had Barbers Shave His Subjects in the Streets and Saw Their Whiskers.

Peter the Great on his return to Moscow in 1690, after travelling through Germany, Holland and England, determined to make his Russian subjects look like Europeans, for at that time, in both appearance and manners, they resembled the Asiatics. They were dressed in long robes reaching down to their ankles, gathered in folds at the waist and girded by a belt or gash, the weather classes wearing garbards of rich materials, lined with costly furs, and on their heads they wore a high cap with a fur border.

They took a great pride in their long beards, which were combed out over their breasts, and they reckoned them not only an ornament to the face, but a distinction from the surrounding nations, who were all clean shaven.

Peter began his reforms by ordering all the boyars, or nobles, to appear at court in English dresses on pain of his displeasure, and patterns of English coats were hung up at the gates of the city, and all persons passing through the gates in their long habits had to pay a tax or else have their skirts cut round by the knees.

The poor peasants alone were exempted from this rule. On the wearing of long beards a tax was imposed, but this measure only increased the czar's revenue, for the people willingly paid the money that they might retain their cherished beards.

Even those who adopted the English dress refused to submit to an act that they thought not only irreligious, but foolish. "For why," said they, "do we give the ruin of our natural covering a minute while the protection of our fathers was necessary during six months in the year?"

The drilling bayonet and fixed bayonet, the czar resolved to convert his subjects to the new fashions by force.

At the gates of the city barbers were stationed, and all, except the peasants, who were allowed to retain their beards, were obliged to submit to a rapid shaving, in spite of extraction and the offer of large bribes.

And venerable gray heads might be seen scurrying through the streets, pursued by the barbers, whom they fled from as they would from an executioner, and when caught the poor men always frequently lost skin as well as hair in this rough way of shaving.

The barbers were most likely Germans or English and probably enjoyed the people they caused among the Russians.

Shaving had at one time been denounced by the clergy, and a beard at that time was looked upon as a sign of orthodoxy, so that native barbers would have had but little custom. Those Russians who persisted in wearing their long catfans were obliged to kneel down, and their garments were cut off at the knees. Peter sometimes invited the nobles to his table and had them shaved in his presence, a process that some of them resisted, their faces suffering in consequence.

One day when the czar was out walking he met an old man coming from the barber. Peter spoke kindly to him, telling him that now he had lost his beard he looked like a young man. Upon this the old man put his hand into his bosom and, drawing forth the beard that had been cut off and showing it to the czar, told him that he would preserve it and have it plaved in his collar, that in the next world he must show it to St. Nicholas.

Peter did not confuse his reforms to the men's habits. He also changed the dress of the Russian ladies; but, though the new costume may have been more convenient, it was certainly not so quaint or picturesque as the old one. The ladies of Russia lived in oriental seclusion, seldom appearing in public and having a separate part of the house appropriated to them, but the czar ordered that at all festivities of public entertainments women should be invited as well as men, but that they must all appear in English dresses.

Whether all of Peter's changes in costume were for the better may be doubted, for before his time stars were unknown in Russia, and when he first visited the defense court and was dancing with the ladies he mistook their white hose corsets for their bodies and complained that the ladies had no hard bones--St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Lack of Teeth.
"Why did you hit Peter?"
"He is lacking in teeth."
"Why, I thought he always said nice things?"
"He does, but not always the right things. He was protesting his love for yesterday when we passed an old woman. I saw my eye and said:
"Will you love me when I get old and look like that woman?"
"Of course I will, dear!" he cried.
"So I dismissed him. The idea of his consenting to think that I could ever get to look like that horrid old thing!"
Women are so particular.--Cleveland Plain Dealer.

That which is seen at a distance is most respected.--Tacitus.

BASHAW

N. E. Lodgegood arrived home from B. C. on Saturday Inst.

N. W. Harrington has again arrived in our midst from his ranch in Big Valley.

Miss E. Lawrence, of Edmonton, editor for the Buffalo Lake Times, is occupying an office in the Miller block.

H. B. Harrington, of Cranbrook, and Mr. James, of Ft. Steele, are in Bashaw looking for a location.

We expect to see the first addition of the Buffalo Lake Times in our midst this week.

The trial of last week ended to the tune of 50c and costs to the foreigners who left the following morning on the train.

The town of Bashaw must be of the feminine race. Why? Keeps changing its name or tries to at least. Maybe not properly christened.

Dave Anslow and Mr. Stonehouse made a trip to the Capitol on Monday, returning Tuesday night. Tom's next trip to Edmonton will be Winnipeg, so we're told.

Mr. Anslow has moved his harness, etc., to the new building next to Stonehouse & Holt.

Jno. Naslund has rented his house to a prominent business man in town. No doubt something doing.

A farewell dance was held in Williams' hall on Wednesday night, to Mrs. Bashaw. Sorry to lose our good citizens but what is our loss is Edmonton's gain.

MIRROR MARKET REPORT

No. 1 Northern	51
" 2 "	45
" 3 "	78
" 4 "	75
Oats, 2, C. W.	33
" 1, Feed	32
Barley, No. 3	49
" 4 "	49
Flax, 1, C.W.	1.21
" 2, "	1.19
Eggs, per doz.	40 and 45
Butter, per lb.	30 and 35
Potatoes, per bus.	40c

Grain prices received by the C. B. of C. Mirror.

Mirror, Alta.

BOARD OF TRADE--1912

President--J. F. FLEWELLING;
Vice-President--J. H. DUTMAN;
Sec. Treasurer--N. H. G. HUTCHINSON;
Meets the 1st and 3rd Tuesday in each month.

RAILWAY TIME TABLE

Train No. 11, Passenger Daily, going North, leaves at 7:00 a. m., arrives Edmonton at 12:10 p. m. Connects with Train No. 2 at Tuleid, going East.

Extra, Mixed, Local, going North leaves at 7 a. m. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Train No. 12, Passenger Daily, arrives 10:40 a. m. Leaves Edmonton at 4:30 p. m., making connections at Tuleid with Train No. 1, from the East.

Extra, Mixed, Local, arrives at 5 p. m., Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Auctioneering

Wide experience in Auctioneering. Satisfaction guaranteed.

COL. HOGG,

ALIX, ALTA.

ESTRAY CATTLE

Take notice that all cattle branded 39 on left ribs, are the property of Mirror. When found please notify-- E. G. GUATY, Mirror P. O.

STRAYED

A light red Cow, horns sawed off, bob-tailed, no white marks, no brand, about 5 or 6 years old. Strayed from Mirror about Oct. 12th, 1912. Finder will be suitably rewarded.

W. M. BEAMISH, Mirror, Alta.

Lots for Sale

The following lots in the Village of Mirror:
Blk 18 Lot 22
Blk 38 Lots 17 18 19
Blk 46 Lot 3
Blk 45 Lots 15 16
Blk 29 Lot 3

Lots will be sold to the highest bidder. Address
KARL JEDEB, Wolsely, Sask.

Farm Lands and Town Property for Sale

Fire, Hail and Live Stock Insurance
1-2 to 10 Acre Plots Adjoining Mirror Beach
C. P. R. Lands

MIRROR REALTY CO., Mirror, Alta.

JOB PRINTING

Letter Heads
Note Heads
Statements
Envelopes
Business Cards
Calling Cards
Invitations
Posters
Hand Bills

THE JOURNAL